JUSTICE TO JOURNALISTS.

The Stockton Mail says every journalist can realize the situation of the editor of the San Jose Times when he felt impelled to print the following:

In our article on the Fair, by an error of some sort, the name of one of the very hardest workers among the Directors, was left out, and we hasten to make the amend honorable to Director William E. Hale.

This is to be hoped was entirely satisfactory to Mr. Hale. We have no idea what sort of a man he is, but if he is like the average citizen who manages to get before the people and idently slighted by the press he thinks it was a deep plot to snuff him name out when mentioning other James, who, it is said, made Tyner's prominent men in the same category is a terrible mistake for an editor or reporter to make; also to spell a prom-of Commissioner Dudley, who was ent man's name wrong. Occasionally a prominent citizen is found with more sense than the average, who does not expect mere mortals, although they be editors or reporters, to be infallible, and allows a little latitude for

The newspaper reader should consider how near he could approach to endeavoring to prevent Dudley's conabsolute correctness if he should undertake to write up a fight or any other occurrence of note in a printing Marshal of Indiana he prostitutes his on the street. He could not, of course, come within several rows of apple trees of the actual facts. The man who imagines that an accidental slight was an intentional wrong, and thinks personal feeling enters into every expression of a paper, represents the worst form of block-headed ness that the journalist has to contend

C. W. Jones sworn-The pistol labeled McMechan was produced by witness and the sylinder taken out. The bullet taken from Scoviile's body was tried in this pistol.

S. T. Swift sworn-Am Sheriff of Ormsby county for six terms; know Coffin: have had experience with firearms. The pistol Coffin used to have was cut off, black handled; Have seen it frequently; compared it once with one I had. The barrels would roll or turn when the pistol was half-cocked. [The pistol said to be Coffin's was shown the witness]. I should say this was the one; It was this pistol or one like it. (The witness illustrated what he meant by the cylinder rolling) Can most swear positively this is the same pistol.

In answer to Deal-Never took this pistol away from Coffin; never took any other away from him. Have seen him load it; used common cartridges; loaded it without cutting the cartridges. (Witness then compared balls in exhibit H with the whittled balls in Coffin's pistol). They look like the same ball, and I should take them to be the same. But of course can't tell. Should judge they would weigh the same. I discovered that there were two kinds of balls in Coffin's pistol the same day I got it. He never examined it and I did not tell him or anybody. The Famous Opera Singers. The Pamous Opera Singers.

Annie Louise Carey and Clara Louise Kellogg are beyond question the most famous opera singers of modern times. In fact they have been universally acknowledged to be the leaders of their profession, as well as ladies of large experience and particularly good taste. They have probably traveled more extensively than any ladies on the stage, and, as a consequence, have had excellent opportunities of judging of the merics of different countries and their productions.
